Very Tentative Myrtle Beach Vacation News--

Now that some details have been ironed out, we will try to do a vacation trip to Myrtle Beach. We are going to try for September 28-October 5. Again, this is very tentative at this date but we need to know ASAP that you are interested. There are still a number of details that must be worked out. We expect that space for this vacation will fill up so the sooner the better. I expect the cost to be around $750 which will include an ocean front house w/pool, meals, entertainment, transportation, and supervision.
